Kids vs Wild Excursion 2015

Working as a team of four, students orientate maps, navigate with a compass, solve riddles, unravel clues and crack the code to complete an outdoor challenge course. They cook, construct a shelter, ‘go bush’ and face their fears. This adventure-style day builds resilience, team work and problem solving skills. Students use critical and creative thinking and build personal and social capability. They work collaboratively and constructively in a variety of situations. A great way to stretch and challenge students outside the classroom!

Maximum 2 classes per day - Cost $16 - Available throughout 2015
